

Biographies

Dr. Michaela Bednárová

*Assistant Professor of Financial Economics and Accounting
University of Pablo de Olavide*

Dr. Michaela Bednárová is an Assistant Professor at the University Pablo de Olavide in Spain. She completed her Ph.D. in Management and Economics at the University of Huelva (Spain). During her doctorate studies she was a visiting researcher at Rutgers Business School in New Jersey (USA). Her main research interests lie in the area of Business Communication 2.0; Social Media; Stakeholder Engagement; Corporate Social Responsibility; Sustainability and Integrated Reporting. She has publications in various national and international journals such as Online Information Review (UK), Journal of Information Systems (USA), Spanish Accounting Review (Spain) and professional journals such as AECA (Spain). Moreover, she is an assistant editor in the International Journal of Digital Accounting Research.

Dr. Enrique Bonsón

*Professor of Accounting
University of Huelva*

Enrique Bonsón is a Professor of Accounting at the University of Huelva, Spain. Co-editor of the International Journal of Digital Accounting Research, he has served on editorial boards of several respected journals. His research publications appear in Government Information Quarterly, International Journal of Accounting Information Systems, International Journal of Auditing, Journal of Emerging Technologies in Accounting, Journal of Information Systems, Online Information Review, Social Science Information and many other business and professional periodicals. In 1997 he received the Award for Notable Contributions to Artificial Intelligence/Expert Systems Teaching in Accounting (AI/ET Section of the AAA). His research activity 1996-2001, 2002-2008 and 2009-2014 received a positive evaluation from the Spanish Agency for Evaluation of Research in 2002, 2009 and 2015 respectively.

Professor Bonsón is the President of the Commission for New Technologies in Accounting of the Spanish Accounting and Business Association (AECA). He was a founding member and coordinator of the provisional jurisdiction of XBRL in Spain (2002-2004), Vice-president of XBRL Spain (2004-2016) and member of the Executive Committee of XBRL Europe (2012-2014).

Web: https://www.researchgate.net/profile/Enrique_Bonson

Dr. Javier De Andrés

*Professor of Accounting and Finance
University of Oviedo*

Javier De Andrés is a full professor of Accounting and Finance at the University of Oviedo (Spain). He received his MS and PhD in economics in 1993 and 1998, respectively. He has published more than 50 papers and chapters in books in refereed scientific journals. He has received several grants from the Spanish Ministry of Science. He is a member of the Standing Committee on New Technologies and Accounting of the Spanish Association of Accounting and Business Administration.

Cinta Pérez Calañas

*PhD Researcher
University of Huelva*

Cinta Pérez Calañas is a PhD Researcher at University of Huelva (Spain). Her research interests are focuses on consumer behaviour and tourism and social media marketing. Cinta also is an accountant having responsibility for controlling expenses and income for a public water company.

Dr. Julita García-Diez

*Associate Professor of Accounting and Finance
University of Oviedo*

Dr. Julita García-Diez is an Associate Professor of Accounting and Finance at the University of Oviedo (Spain). She received her MS and PhD degrees in Business Administration. She has taught accounting and auditing courses at the undergraduate, graduate and post-graduate levels. She has published university textbooks in Accounting and many papers in refereed scientific journals like the International Journal of Management, Global Business and Economics Review and Information Processing and Management among others. She has attended numerous national and international Accounting congresses and has served as an ad hoc reviewer for various academic journals and conferences on Accounting.

Dr. Tomás Escobar-Rodríguez

Associate Professor of Accounting and Information Systems
University of Huelva

Tomás Escobar-Rodríguez, PhD, is an Associate Professor of Accounting and Information Systems at the University of Huelva (Spain). His research focuses on information technology and business administration. He has published in leading academic journals including the Enterprise Information Systems, International Journal of Hospitality Management, International Journal of Accounting Information Systems, Online Information Review and Journal of Information Systems.

Prof. Dr. rer. Oec. Carsten Felden

Director of Management Information Systems
TU Bergakademie Freiberg

He is director of the Department of Management Information Systems at TU Bergakademie Freiberg (Saxony, Germany). He holds the chair of Information Management and Management Information Systems. His research deals with the topics Business Intelligence, Business/Predictive Analytics, XBRL, and Business Intelligence capability models. His research is published in several highly ranked journals and conferences. He is chairman of TDWI Germany and was member of the management board of XBRL Germany. Currently, he is the dean of the Faculty of Business Administration.

Dr. Andrea Fradeani

Associate Professor of Accounting
University of Macerata

Andrea Fradeani, Ph.D., is Associate Professor of Accounting at the Department of Economics and Law of the University of Macerata (Italy), he teaches courses on Auditing and Financial Accounting. He has published three monographs and several articles related to XBRL. His research area includes: Financial Accounting and Corporate Reporting; International Financial Reporting Standards; Internal and External Audit; XBRL and Reporting Information Systems.

Dirk Henrich

Lecturer, Entrepreneur, and Management Consultant

Dirk Henrich received his Diplomas in engineering and economics/MBA from the Technische Hochschule in Darmstadt (TUD) and Technical University of Munich (TUM)/ Germany after studies in mechanical and electrical engineering and business administration at the Technical Universities of Darmstadt and Munich.

After working with Bosch, and his family owned Henrich Group as well as Treuhandgesellschaft Germany and EIS Group PLC, London UK for a longer period of time in different functions and chief executive positions in Germany and abroad he has been running his management & technology consultancy company since 1999.

He conducted seminars, workshops and lectures on e.g. micro-and macroeconomics, marketing, controlling, quality-and project management, leadership, entrepreneurship & innovation, process reengineering, R&D and strategic planning at different universities (THM Giessen, FOM – University, Siegen , Victoria University Wellington , NZ ...) and several associations, banks and (public)-organisations. Since 2016 he has been working as a lecturer in IT-Project management for the German air force

He is particularly interested in the diagnosis and development of successful management approaches in SMEs and family enterprises.

Apart from several articles in magazines he contributed scientific presentations to several international management forums

CA Vinod Kashyap, B.Com.(Hons.), FCA, DISA (ICAI)

Co-Founder

NexGen Knowledge Solutions

CA Vinod Kashyap, B.Com.(Hons.), FCA, DISA (ICAI), is Co-Founder of NexGen Knowledge Solutions Private Ltd. He has over 32 years of quantifiable experience in Industrial and professional working, Accounting, Internal Audit, Information Systems Audit, Digital Financial Reporting. He has hands-on experience of working on digital financial reporting (XBRL/iXBRL) in India, Singapore & U.K. He is co-author of paper titled “A Field Study Examining the Indian Ministry of Corporate Affairs XBRL Implementation” published in Journal of Information Systems. He has also provided valuable inputs on XBRL and EDIFACT in Master Thesis “Factors affecting Standard Dominance in the battle between EDIFACT versus XBRL Data Exchange Standards in India” submitted for Masters of Science in Management of Technologies at DELFT University of Technology, Netherlands.

He has been involved in customization & testing of compliance software for Goods & Services of GovReports (Australia's leading GST solution provider and SBR/XBRL regulatory compliance reporting platform) to suit Indian requirements. He has been a regular speaker on XBRL and Goods & Services Tax at various seminars/conferences organized by the accounting bodies in India.

Qiao Li

*PhD Candidate in Accounting Information Systems
Rutgers Business School*

Qiao Li is a PhD candidate of Accounting Information Systems at Rutgers, the State University of New Jersey, USA. She has written and/or presented papers on audit data analytics, audit data outlier detection, government auditing, and Artificial Intelligence (AI) application in auditing. Her current dissertation work is focused on proposing and developing cognitive systems for audit plan risk assessment and decision making.

Dr. Pedro Lorca

*Associate Professor of Accounting and Finance
University of Oviedo*

Pedro Lorca is a tenured associate professor of Accounting and Finance at the University of Oviedo (Spain). He received his MS (1993) and PhD (2000) in business administration. He has received several grants from the Spanish Ministry of Science. He is a member of the Standing Committee on New Technologies and Accounting of the Spanish Association of Accounting and Business Administration.

Dr. Daniela Mancini

*Professor of Business Administration and Management
Information Systems
Parthenope University of Naples*

Dr. Daniela Mancini is Professor of Business Administration, and Management Information Systems at the Parthenope University of Naples (Italy), she is also the Head of the Executive Master Degree on 'Chief Financial Officer' and Doctorate Course Leader on 'Business Networks' at Parthenope University of Naples. Prior to Naples, she taught at University of Pisa (Italy), where she also obtain her Phd in Business Administration. At the University of Pisa she currently is the Director of the Executive Online Master Degree on 'Corporate Finance and Management Control'. Her research focuses on management control systems and their relationships with the information and communication technologies.

Dr. Mancini has authored or co-authored various books and papers on accounting information systems, management control and business networking. She serves the editorial board of several journals as The International Journal of Digital Accounting Research; International Journal of Digital Culture and Electronic Tourism; and Management Control. She acts as track chair and member of the programme committee of numerous national and international workshops and conferences. She is ordinary member of important academies, both national and international, such as: AIDEA, AIS, EIASM, SIDREA, and the I&CT Committee of Italian CFO Association.

Dr. Amir Michael

*Associate Professor in Accounting
Durham University Business School*

Dr. Amir Michael is an Associate Professor in Accounting and Director of the BSc Accounting (KPMG) Programme at Durham University Business School, UK. Dr Michael holds a PhD in Accounting & Finance from Durham University Business School.

His research is focusing on auditing, data analytics, corporate governance and voluntary disclosures. As Programme Director, Amir has been instrumental in the development the BSc in Accounting (KPMG/ICAEW) School Leavers Programme. This innovative programme has been mentioned in the House of Commons and cited in the government education White paper as an example of good practice in higher education and the highly influential Wilson “Review of Business–University Collaboration” report to Government. He has supervised over 10 PhD theses and have been invited to present his research in various conferences and public lectures nationally and internationally.

Brigitte Muehlmann

*Professor and Chair of Accounting & Law
Babson College*

Brigitte Muehlmann is Professor and Chair of the Division of Accounting & Law at Babson College (USA). She explores topics in accounting and taxation with an emphasis on the design of innovations in the field. Brigitte’s research has been published in the Journal of Emerging Technologies in Accounting, Scientometrics, Issues in Accounting Education, Journal of Forensic and Investigative Accounting, ATA

Journal of Legal Tax Research, Tax Notes International, IBFD Bulletin for International Taxation, Tax and Business Review International, Fraud Magazine and Internal Auditing. She also writes the column "Email from Boston" for the German-language CFOaktuell magazine.

Brigitte is a past President of the American Accounting Association's Strategic and Emerging Technologies Section. She is an Associate Editor of the Journal of Emerging Technologies in Accounting, the creator of the design science research in accounting workshop (DRAW) and a co-organizer of the annual Transformative Technologies in Accounting Workshop (TTW) of the American Accounting Association. A dual Austrian-American citizen, Brigitte completed her PhD at WU, the Vienna University of Economics and Business.

Dr. Won Gyun No

Assistant Professor of Accounting Information Systems Rutgers Business School

Won Gyun No is an assistant professor of Accounting Information Systems at Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey. His research interest includes investigating areas of XBRL, data quality, green IT, the effect of privacy in e-commerce, and cybersecurity. He is a member of the American Accounting Association (AAA), the Canadian Academic Accounting Association (CAAA), and XBRL.US.

Dr. Klaus P. Nuehrich

Lecturer and Management Consultant

Dr. Nuehrich received his Diploma and PhD (Dr.- Ing.) from the Technische Hochschule (TU) in Karlsruhe / Germany after studies in mechanical and electrical engineering and business administration at the Technical Universities of Dresden, Stuttgart and Karlsruhe.

After working with Siemens for a longer period of time in different functions and positions in Germany and abroad he run his own management consultancy. Since 2010 he has lived in China and in the Philippines for teaching and consulting.

He conducted seminars, workshops and lectures on e.g. controlling, PPS, lean production/management, teamwork, process reengineering, R&D and strategic planning at universities, several associations and organisations as well as during different consulting projects.

His particular interests lie in the holistic diagnosis and development of enterprises.

Apart from several articles in magazines he published three books:

Unternehmensdiagnose, Springer 2000, Navigationshandbuch Unternehmensentwicklung, Hanser 2010 (DDE) and Die besten Strategietools in der Praxis, Hanser 2007 (co-author).

Dr. Melinda Ratkai

*European Projects Officer
University of Malaga*

Dr. Melinda RATKAI obtained her Phd in management and economics at the University of Huelva in 2014 (Spain). She has an MBA in Tourism (2011, University of Huelva, Spain), a BA in International Studies (2010, King Sigismund College, Hungary), a BSc in Economics (Commerce) (2007, Budapest Business School, Hungary), a degree in commerce with marketing and advertising specialization (2004, Budapest Business School, Hungary), and a postgrad in Cognitive Sciences (ongoing, expected to be obtained by the end of 2017, University of Malaga). She is active as researcher, and assistant editor of International Journal of Digital Accounting Research. She has a genuine interest in turning research into viable business opportunities. Currently she works for the University of Malaga at the European Projects' Office dealing with R&D transfer, project management and acquisition. She is also responsible for the UMA Smart City initiatives.

Dr. Hermann Siebdrat

*Professor of Business Information Systems
TH Köln – Technische Hochschule Köln –
University of Applied Sciences of Cologne/Germany*

After studies of Economics and Business Administration Hermann Siebdrat was working as scientific assistant at the University of Siegen / Germany. There he has received his Ph.D. in Business Information Systems in 1993. After that he has been working for Deutsche Bank AG and German Savings Bank Organization. From 1999 until 2001 he had the position as deputy CIO of Deutsche Regio AG (German Rail concern – 36000 employees). Together with a colleague he is now running a special study program for part-time students of Business Information Systems for University of Applied Sciences of Cologne in Gummersbach/Germany and gives lectures in Business Administration, IT Management and Business Application Systems. He holds the position as deputy director of IDF-Institute of Distance Learning and Further Education.

Since 2016 he is also working for German Air Force as lecturer of IT Project Management.

Since 2004 he also gives lectures of various subjects at different universities in China, the Philippines and Vietnam. He holds two honorary professorships in the People's Republic of China (Jiangsu College of Information Technology in Wuxi/PRC) and Jinan University (Zhuhai Branch / PRC). He works also as a business consultant of Asian negotiation style and business habits.

In September 2017 he was nominated as candidate for FDP-Free Democrats for the elections of German Parliament.

Dr. Michela Soverchia

*Assistant Professor of Accounting
University of Macerata*

Michela Soverchia, Ph.D., is Assistant Professor of Accounting at the Department of Economics and Law of the University of Macerata (Italy). Her main research fields concern public administration, with particular reference to budgeting, accounting and financial reporting. She is author of two monographs and several articles on accounting harmonization within the public sector and government financial reporting, also in a comparative perspective.

Dr. Ting Sun

*PhD Candidate in Accounting Information Systems
Rutgers Business School*

Ting Sun is a PhD candidate of Accounting Information Systems at Rutgers, the State University of New Jersey, USA. She holds a PhD in Accounting from Southwestern University of Finance and Economics, China. She was the assistant professor in Nanjing Audit University, China. Ting has published more than ten papers in peer-viewed journals and presented her research in national and international conferences in the topic of deep learning applications to audit decision making, continuous auditing, government auditing, and audit data analytics.

Dr. Miklos Vasarhelyi

*Director, Rutgers Accounting Research Center & Continuous Auditing & Reporting Lab
KPMG Distinguished Professor of Accounting Information Systems
Rutgers Business School*

Professor Miklos A. Vasarhelyi is the KPMG Distinguished Professor of Accounting Information Systems and serves as Director of the Rutgers Accounting Research Center (RARC) & Continuous Auditing & Reporting Lab (CAR Lab). He is credited with developing the original continuous audit application and is the leading researcher in this field. At Rutgers Business School, Professor Vasarhelyi heads the Continuous Auditing and Reporting Laboratory, which is working on projects for such leading companies as Siemens, KPMG, Procter & Gamble, D&B, AICPA, CA Technologies, Workiva, Morgan Stanley, and Brazil's Itau-Unibanco. Vasarhelyi, who received his Ph.D. in Management Information Systems from UCLA, has published more than 200 journal articles, 20 books, and directed over 40 Ph.D.

theses. He is the editor of the Artificial Intelligence in Accounting and Auditing series and the Journal of Emerging Technologies in Accounting (JETA). He has been named the Outstanding Accounting educator by the AAA in 2013. The professor also has taught executive programs on AIS, audit automation, continuous audit, and electronic commerce to many large international organizations.

Dr. Tawei (David) Wang

*Assistant Professor, School of Accountancy and MIS
DePaul University*

Tawei (David) Wang is currently an Assistant Professor at DePaul University. He received his Ph.D. from Krannert Graduate School of Management, Purdue University in 2009. His research interests are IT management and information security management. His papers have appeared in several leading journals, including Information Systems Research, Decision Support Systems, European Journal of Information Systems, Information and Management, Information Systems Journal, Journal of Accounting and Public Policy, Journal of Banking and Finance, Journal of Information Systems, Journal of Organizational Computing and Electronic Commerce, among others. He received several research and teaching awards. He has served as workshop chair, track co-chair, minitrack co-chair, and conference coordinator for many conferences.