Meeting Minutes

- The purpose of this conference call was to finalize the MADs Key Learnings document, and discuss the completion of the Process Mining research project.
- The Board approved the December 19, 2019 meeting minutes for posting to the RADAR website.
- The Board discussed minor edits to the MADs Key Learnings document, and approved the final document for posting to the RADAR website. This will now conclude work on the MADS research project.
- The Board discussed the process mining research project. Board representatives presented their key takeaways from an “experiment” that they ran using process mining techniques during an audit. The board discussed the challenges encountered (for example, obtaining appropriate data sets to use for this analysis) as well as the benefits gained from using process mining techniques (such as, a greater understanding of business processes). Since many of these insights are similar to those that have been noted within the MADS Key Learnings document, a new paper will not be drafted at this time.
